My favorite Christmas movie is "The Grinch that Stole Christmas." It is about a tall fuzzy green man who doesn't like Christmas because he never gets presents. He dresses as Santa Claus and steals kids' presents. One day a girl followed him back to his cave. She wanted to make him nicer, so she voted for him to get the nicest person award. She asked other people to vote for him. He won, and after that he was the nicest person.

Merry Christmas! Drake and Josh is fun to watch. Drake dressed up as Santa Claus. This little girl told him about her family and he said he would make a Christmas promise that they would give that little girl a good Christmas. Josh went to jail and was in a cell with Kimbo Slice. Drake broke Josh out of jail and they both went to court. Drake and Josh were found not guilty. When they got out of court the judge put an ankle bracelet around Drake and Josh's foot. The judge made some boys take Drake and Josh's clothes. They went to their house and got some more clothes and asked their sister Megan to help them hide from the judge and they would give her a harmonica. When Drake and Josh were sleeping Megan put their chips back in because they didn't give her the harmonica. The judge tracked them and they were in big trouble. The little girl said she wishes it would snow. Drake and Josh knew a friend so they went to his house and he let them borrow it. Their friend is crazy and he is a nerd. They put ice in it and it blew out little pieces of ice and damaged a beautiful and expensive house. The little girl and her brothers and sisters almost got hit. Drake and Josh's parents were coming home. Drake and Josh went to apologize to the family about wrecking their house. The next day their parents got home. Drake and Josh's friend put some cheese in the machine and it made snowing and all the people in the yard was wondering how it was snowing. Everybody was having a good and happy time playing in the snow. Do you have a favorite Christmas movie? What is it?

My favorite Christmas movie is, "The Grinch That Stole Christmas." My favorite part is when the grinch flew out of the emergency exit. He also stole the trees, gifts, and food. He only left a crum smaller than the mouse. The little girl asked the grinch, why he took the Christmas things? He said that, "he was taking it so that he could fix it." Next, the grinch pretended to be Santa Claus and made his dog a deer. The grinch and the girl went to the Christmas party. The grinch destroyed the party and almost burned down the town. The king was being so selfish that he tried to hurt him. Last, the grinch was invited to the town anytime. Now you know my favorite Christmas movie.
