

Tela Carr-Hadley
Warrington Elementary
5th grade

What would you do if you were principle for a day? If I was principle for a day, I would begin by placing teachers on vacation sending them to Jamaica. That way, students can do whatever they want to do. Then something cool I would do is order skates so, fourth and fifth graders can skate. If a student does not know how to skate, he/she can watch TV or play on the computer. Then, if a student is hungry he/she can eat all the food he/she wants. The students that are good will go out to eat. We would get the money from the school. That is what I would do if I were principle for a day.

Daniel Tran
Warrington Elementary
5th grade

I am going to be principle for one day. I am going to tell you what I will do. I am going to make that day paint-ball day because school is fun. I am going to add a little more action to school. Students and staff members will be given paint-ball dispensers to have for a free for all competition in school. If a person gets hit 10 times he/she has to go back to class and he/she will have twice as much work and homework for the week. The last one standing will receive no homework for a week. Also, when a person has P.E., he/she will get to play on the Wii for P.E. time. That person will also receive one extra hour of recess if he/she was one of the last fifty people standing in the paint-ball competition. I will also give the winner of the school spelling bee 10lbs. of candy. The cafeteria will serve anything a person wants. So that is what I am going to do if I were principle for a day.

Caio Cardoso
Warrington Elementary
5th grade

I am so excited I get to be principle at my school today! It is 8:30 a.m. and the bus should be picking me up now. "Uroom!" "Uroom!" "Come on in Mr." said Mr. Wheels, the bus driver. I was so excited that I jumped in and tripped over the stairs on the bus. Everyone laughed and made fun of me the principle, so I made all of them walk to school, then I said, "who's laughing now!" "Eeee!" The bus screeched as it stopped. Here I was at C.L.C middle school. I entered through the office doors, and went to my office. There was a stack of papers on my desk. I knew being a principle was hard, but come on! Now, the fun started. I gave all classes six hours of recess or free time that was the whole school day! I allowed skateboards and bikes at "my" school. The best part was that I could keep a close eye on people. If someone was doing something that they were not supposed to be doing I would call helicopters to drop paint bombs on them! Ha! I just dumped a bomb of paint on this kid because he started a food fight. How much better can this job get. Wait, it gets way worse. I have to do a mountain of paper work. I had an idea I would run away. Yes! I ran out the door across the street and got into my car. Yes, I have a car, and went home. Wow! That was a cool day.

READING QUIZ

1. What would Tela do if she were principal for a day?
- A. Sleep in
  - B. Send teachers to Jamaica
  - C. Order pizza for everyone

Marc' Keyashia Lewis
Spencer Bibbs Elementary
4th grade

Here is my chance to introduce, elaborate, and review on some of the reasons why pre-k was my favorite grade. My three main reasons are, you get easy homework, get to color pictures, and you get to take naps. Primarily, pre-k was my favorite grade because we had easy homework. It's like you don't have to do writing, reading, and math at night. You didn't have to sit there and read. You didn't have to sit there and do math problems like fractions or decimals, and you didn't have to write. Math is easy, but when you get to 4th grade you'll see my pain. Some readings are easy and let me tell you, some are not. Writing is easy, but you always have to plan. If you like my first explanation you will love what comes next. Moving along, pre-k was my favorite grade because you could also color. I love to color. It was my favorite thing to do when I was in pre-k. I would make pictures like the moon, sun, sky, and even the beach. Sometimes my teacher would give me pictures to color and when I finished I would give them to her. Pre-k was a BLAST including the coloring, but when I got to 4th grade, you know things changed. You've come one step closer to understanding why pre-k was my favorite grade. Ultimately, pre-k was my favorite grade because I could take naps. When I take naps I sleep like a baby, to tell you the truth I snore. But, those naps always refreshed my memory and it felt good. So when you take naps in pre-k you wake up, eat, and do some work. There is no doubt that pre-k was my favorite grade. Now you should have a clear understanding on why pre-k was my favorite grade. My three reasons are; you get easy homework, you get to color, and you get to take naps.

Avian Sanders
Spencer Bibbs Elementary
4th grade

I assure you my reasons will be fascinating as well as concise on why 2nd grade is my favorite grade it is my favorite grade because the teachers do fun learning activities, you can learn cursive and the teachers are nice. For starters, I think 2nd grade is my favorite grade because you do fun activities. When I was in 2nd grade we had tickets with our name on them and every week on Friday the teacher would put her hand in the box and pick a name. The name she picked would get to choose a prize from the prize box. That is why 2nd grade is my favorite, because you do fun activities. To make sure I spark your curiosity on why I think 2nd grade is my favorite grade. It is my favorite grade because you can learn cursive. Cursive is my one and only favorite. It seems so fancy. To some people it just looks like squiggles, but I have a passion for it. In the middle of the school year my teacher started teaching us cursive. Here and there squiggle, squiggle, and squiggle that's all we