

movie, but then I realized the cord. The cord was plugged into the directors back. This was not a movie it was real. I had an idea. I would climb a tree which would cause it to bend and fling me onto the monster and then it would try to hit me with its mace. Then I would jump off and it would hit itself. So I climbed the tree, then let go. I miscalculated and got flung into the dirt. Then I woke up. I had actually fallen out of my bed. Wow! How crazy was that dream.

To start off I'm going to tell you about my movie. It all started in Hawaii. My cousins and I were on vacation visiting our grandparents. We went on an air plane and flew over the water. Suddenly we crashed into the sea. We got a life jacket, but they didn't float. Then three dolphins picked us up and went underwater and we held on tight. Colorful fish swam right passed us. Wow! That was amazing. Although the air-plane sank 30 feet, from that day forward we were on the shore. Even though the dolphins could swim fast, we found three mini cars in a huge bush. We got in the cars and drove to the airport to look for our grandparents. They were sitting on a bench outside looking down, but when they looked up they saw us and said, "we were so worried." We said, "hop in" then they said, "ok." We went so fast and they gave us directions. We only drove one mini car. Although on the way back to the house we parked the mini car and walked along the beach. My cousin and I went surfing for a while. We splashed, went under water, saw fish, and went back home to change. That night my grandma went shopping for us. My grandpa watched us as we waited for grandma. Finally we drank hot coco, ate some crackers, and watched the view from above. Now you have heard about my movie.

Ha ha ha! That is me laughing at my favorite show the Penguins of Madagascar. I like the Penguins of Madagascar because it has cutie little baby penguins. It is funny, and I can relax and watch it. Enough talk, let's get to the story. One thing that entertains me is the Penguins of Madagascar. That show is the funniest at least in my opinion. I like the Penguins of Madagascar because it talks about penguins a little. They tell how the babies slide on their cloud balls and splash! They go in the water like swimmers at their game. So check out a book at your local library about the Penguins of Madagascar and about penguins and I'll bet you will like them both. Another thing about the Penguins of Madagascar is that it is funny. It has amusing parts that entertain me. It tells a little about grown up penguins like how they play together, fight for each other and their cubs. The best thing and funniest thing is that they have fun together. So watch the show and you will see what I'm talking about. The show is as long as a theatre movie, so get a good nap before you go. The last thing is that it is a relaxing show. It is short and sweet like my teacher always says. The show is relaxing because you can come home from school if you are a kid and watch it. So if you have a bad day at school, turn on the Penguins of Madagascar and your worries will fade away!

This time it's entertainment. My favorite entertainer is Jeff Dunham. Jeff Dunham is a ventriloquist. He is awesome and he has one of my favorite puppets, Walter. First of all, Jeff is a ventriloquist. I picked this topic because I have never heard of a ventriloquist. Jeff is probably the greatest thing since Michael Jackson. I think I should follow in his footsteps. On the other hand, Jeff is awesome! Jeff is awesome because he is funny, smart, and cool! I think he is funny because he says that his second dog is weird, but his 100 lbs. golden retriever is awesome like him. Jeff also has one of my favorite puppets, Walter. Walter is funny. Walter is funny because he is mean to people. He is mean to people because he does not like them. That's the end of my story about my favorite entertainer.

My favorite actor is Steve Urkel. Because he is a nerd and his voice is weird, and he is funny. He is from the show family matters. Also he always makes mistakes. Such as breaking a roof with a jet pack, crushing a sail boat, and passing the number of year on a time watch. And one time he went to a swamp and fell off a sail boat. And that's why he is my favorite actor.

Thank goodness! Spring Break is finally here! I've been waiting for this moment since August. There are water slides, picnics, and more! Today Spring Break has started and I'm planning to do something that will make my day the best day ever. On the first day of spring vacation I feel like ... oh I know my dad and I can go to the beach. Finally an hour later we arrived at Pensacola beach. My dad and I splashed into the glistening waters of the beach. While I was building a sand castle my dad got pinched by a sand crab. After my dad was pinched by the crab, he was ready to go home. On the next day my dad decided he wasn't going to be pinched again, so he decided to do something less painful. My dad and I got out the amazing water slide. After we set it up we were zipping up and down on the slide. My dad had red marks on his tummy! On the last day my dad and I went to the park and had a picnic. My dad had a very strange banana sandwich. I also had a sandwich and a banana. We also had a little bottle of water. By the time we got home I was tired and I had to go to school the next day. That Spring Break was the best Spring Break I could have asked for. We got to go to the beach, play on the painful water slide, and have a beautiful picnic.
